Samuel studied at Kings Inn in Dublin, become a solicitor and was practising law in Dublin. Samuel however retained his entitlement to a share of the ongoing profit of the Benner Hotel business. Later Agnes Benner, after the death of her husband William, (Samuel's brother) wanted to keep the hotels in Dingle and Tralee in her own immediate family and so she bought out her Samuel trading his share in the hotels for other property in the Kerry area.

The family emigrated to the USA in 1898.

Samuel died on the 14th January 1916.
